12 The constitution of a general Muzrai Fund was sanctioned in Government order dated 2nd April 1917 and detailed instructions regarding its formation and the purposes to which its income should be devoted were laid down in Government order dated 28th September 1919.

The Fund was actually formed in 1919-20 and in the four years ending with 1922-23 it realised a revenue of Rs.69,000 and expended a sum of Rs.39,000 leaving a balance of Rs.30,000 at the commencement of the current year. I understand from the Comptroller's Office that there is an arrear liability of about Rs.6,000 to be met from this balance and the excess of income over expenditure in the four years may thus be taken to be about Rs.24,000. The securities of the Fund and its annual income are as under:-

Securities.	Face value. Rs.	Annual income. Rs.
3 % Government of India paper	2,000	60
3½ % -do.-	3,33,100	11,658
6¼ % Mysore Government paper	1,59,600	9,975
		21,693

15 Against the annual income of Rs.21,693, the annual expenditure is as follows:-

(1) For the engineering establishment in the Muzrai Commissioner's Office	Rs.	1,500
(2) For the Agama classes ..	"	2,500
		4,000

An annual expenditure of Rs.10,000 for special improvements to Muzrai Institutions has been authorised in the Government order dated 28th September 1919 to be met from the income of this Fund but the actual expenditure has in no year reached this level.

17 The purposes for which the income of the Fund should be used have been defined in the Government order dated 28th September 1919 and they are (1) maintenance of an engineering establishment, (2) Agama classes, and (3) special improvements to Muzrai institutions. The cost of items (1) and (2) are fixed while that of item (3) is variable. In view of the objects for which this Fund has been formed, I think that the expenditure on repairing temples like Belur, Halebid and Somanathpur may be incurred from the incom of the Fund. This Fund cannot, however, be used for carrying out any works to non-Hindu institutions. The object of the order dated 2nd April 1917 appears to be that there should be two General Muzrai Funds, one intended for Hindu institutions and the other for non-Hindu institutions. The Fund formed in 1919 is for the former and none has been formed for the latter. If non-Hindu institutions require help of this kind, it is necessary to form another fund ~~of this kind~~, if they can afford to contribute for its formation.

The investment on behalf of the General Muzrai Fund ~~xxxxx~~ ordered to be made in the Mysore 6½ % bonds and included in the total of Rs.7½ lakhs, has already been made. The interest due on this invest-investment to end of 1922-23 has also been credited to the General Muzrai Fund.

19 The investment in these bonds out of the total of Rs 7½ lakhs still under consideration relates to the balance of Muzrai institutions and the delay is due to the fact that the investment was ordered in general and the exact balances of the different institutions to be converted into securities have not yet been worked out.

20 As stated above, the Fund has made a saving of about Rs.24,000 in the four ~~xy~~ years to end of 1922-23 and this sum may be invested to add to the corpus of the Fund, if it is not required for carrying out any special repair works. I would make the following suggestions for improving the administration of this Fund in future:-

I am afraid this cannot be done as the amount is now required for the repair & renovation of Bala Vinayaka temple, Subrahmanya temple & Sampa Lingeshwara temple

(1) An annual budget may be prepared showing the income from investments and the expenditure to be met from it and sanctioned by Government in the Muzrai Department.

(2) If the annual revenue account shows any surplus after the budget is sanctioned, the disposal of the surplus may be decided in dealing with the budget. If it is not required for meeting any expenditure, it may be ordered to be invested and added to the corpus of the Fund.

(3) The fixed expenditure to be met from the in-

income of the Fund is on the engineering establishment and on the Agama schools. The rest of the expenditure is on account of improvements and repairs to Muzrai institutions, and as regards this part of the expenditure, it is necessary to draw up a triennial programme of work which should receive aid from this Fund and select out of such programme the works to be brought upon the budget of any year, with reference to the urgency of the works and the sums which can be spared for the purpose from the income of the Fund.

I do not think it is always possible to prepare programmes beforehand and adhere to it strictly as the funds available may not always meet unforeseen items of expenditure — Secretary.

(4) I understand that the income of this Fund has been drawn upon for meeting expenditure on feeding in the Thirupati Chatram. Such diversion of the income of this Fund is not permissible under the Government orders dated 2nd April 1917 and 28th September 1919. It is desirable to prevent such outlay being met from this Fund so that more money may be available for carrying out repairs and improvements to Muzrai institutions according to the original object of the Fund.

I am not sure if the Fund can be charged with the expenditure — Secretary.

The present engineering establishment attached to the Muzrai Commissioner's Office consists of one sub-overseer, one clerk and two peons. I am not sure if there is need for any peons for this work nor even for a clerk. The clerical work relating to Muzrai works should, I think, be considered as part of the general work of the Muzrai Section and should not require require a separate hand. If it is possible to effect any reduction in this establishment, the amount available for works will be increased.

The Engineering establishment was originally named Copy and it was cut down to the present strength on the proposals drawn up by me as Muz. Com. One peon may perhaps be reduced. I cannot be sure. I think the Commissioner will however be consulted further — Secretary.

In the course of studying this case, I have learnt that there is another fund called "The Muzrai Establishment Fund" which has a debit balance of about Rs.30,000. The over-draft is due to the fact that the Fund has not been regularly formed and it has, therefore, no annual revenue. Some establishment has, however, been sanctioned and charges on this account are being incurred from 1917-18 and the result is that the Fund has got to bear expenditure while it has no income to meet it. This arrangement is irregular and the matter requires investigation.
